

Kier North Tyneside operative goes above and beyond to have positive environmental impact

Operatives in North Tyneside have discovered the benefits making a few small changes can have on their carbon footprint thanks to newly introduced environmentally friendly processes implemented onto sites across the region. The scheme, set up by Kier North Tyneside temporary site supervisor Jimmy Scott, involves collecting rainwater and reusing it on site to mix mortar, service toilets and clean tools.

[REDACTED]