

Fenland District Council's environmental health team is holding another all-day training course next month to help local businesses improve their health and safety management standards.

The Level 2 Health and Safety in the Workplace course will take place on Tuesday, February 26 (9.15am-4pm) at The Base, Melbourne Avenue, March.

It costs £64 per delegate, including lunch. Businesses that send two delegates get the second place half-price. Those who complete the course successfully are awarded a nationally recognised certificate from the Chartered Institute of Environmental Health.

Other courses are available for anyone wishing to take more specialised training.
