The conferences, the seminars, the products, the people - the future of the built environment at Ecobuild.

Taking place at London's ExCeL on Tuesday 20 – Thursday 22 March 2012, Ecobuild is the world's greatest gathering for sustainable design, construction and the built environment, attended by over 55,000 of the most influential individuals, representing the most valuable projects from across the UK and beyond. It's the biggest showcase of sustainable construction products anywhere – over 1,500 exhibitors – plus more than 130 free conference and seminar sessions delivered by 800 expert speakers, and over a dozen interactive attractions offering hands-on experience and practical advice.

Ecobuild is free to attend – visit www.ecobuild.co.uk for more information about visiting, or if you're interested in exhibiting contact Michael Costain on tel: +44 207 560 4465, e-mail: mcostain@ibeltd.com
