

EDP is a specialist Health, Safety and Environment Consultancy, operating from strategic locations throughout the UK, EMEA and South East Asia. David Skews, CEO has been awarded with 'Corenet's Global Luminary Award for Excellence in Speaking' for his speeches and talks at the 2009 Macau Summit.

David is actively running a speaking programme on health and safety topics throughout the world and his efforts are now rewarded by Corenet Global.

Amanda T. Brooks, Director Program Ideation & Development, CoreNet Global said:

"It was a huge pleasure to inform David of his award - The CoreNet Global Luminary Award for Excellence in Speaking. David has earned this distinction for being one of the top 10% highest rated speakers from the 2009 Macau Summit."

EDP was founded in 1989 and is proud of their selection of health, safety and environment consultants who are continually working on their seminar and conference diaries for 2010 speaking opportunities. Many of the consultants at EDP possess a strong and recognised reputation in the industry.

Overview and topics of expertise:

- Health and safety management systems for major corporations
- SME health and safety system solutions

- Personal Injury claims management
- Accident investigation
- Health and safety solutions for organisations expanding or operating into European markets.
- Lectures, seminars and consultancy on legal aspects of Health and Safety and their practical implications for businesses and Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR).
- Director and Senior Management briefing on responsibilities.
- Lectures and briefings on corporate manslaughter
- HSE with values positively impacting bottom line
- Leadership in Health Safety and Environment

EDP has a wealth of experience implementing health and safety across a wide variety of industries of all sizes.

David Skews, CEO, EDP said: "With such a strong knowledge base on all things relating to health and safety and the environment, we make it a priority to share this knowledge at events such as seminars, conferences, exhibitions and press events. I am delighted to be given this prestigious award and pass my thanks onto my team and the Corenet Global team of professionals."

For further information about David Skews and his expert consultant panel, or to request attendance at one of your events, please contact EDP's PR Agency – Simply Marcomms (details below).