

Redhills (part of Silverdell PLC) has announced the promotion of Mandy McIntyre to Regional Manager of their Scottish operations from 01 July 2011.

Leading asbestos and environmental consultancy, Redhills recently announced the promotion of Mandy McIntyre to Regional Manager as she takes on the role to head up their growing presence in Scotland.

Mandy is credited with establishing a strong team in the Scotland Region from their Glasgow base and securing multiple contracts and new clients which have subsequently delivered a substantial order book for the successful asbestos consultancy.

Matt Griggs, Managing Director said:

“We congratulate Mandy on her new position within the Group. Full credit is given to her and the hardworking team in Glasgow. The Scottish team have worked together to establish and maintain a solid reputation in Scotland for Redhills for cost-effective, pragmatic and professional asbestos consultancy services”

Redhills is one of the UK’s leading asbestos and environmental consultancies. We provide specialist survey, laboratory analysis, advisory, management and compliance services nationwide and are valued by our clients for the integrity, professionalism and independence of our approach and for our unrivalled technical expertise.

Asbestos services include:

Asbestos Surveying

Asbestos Management

Asbestos Compliance

For more information on our Specialist Environmental Support Services call 01306 631820, email info@redhills.co.uk or visit www.redhills.co.uk